Ask a Scientist is a 501(c)3 non-profit that creates STEAM-focused community outreach through the efforts of student-led chapters.

The UTK Ask a Scientist chapter is putting on a free and family-friendly public convention promoting STEAM in Knoxville – STEAMcon – and we'd love for you to join us there.

STEAMcon is an opportunity for you to generate publicity with our diverse target audience, and to give back to the Knoxville community.

For more information about how you can support STEAMcon, please contact Callie Goetz at k.c.goetz@askascientist.co to learn about our advertising and booth space.
